

Stepping Up to Light Sport

"I've been flying for decades, and have thousands of hours logged in all kinds of high-performance aircraft. Flying those little Light Sport airplanes will be a piece of cake." If you believe that, you haven't been reading the accident statistics! Come to this Wings seminar to learn why transitioning to LSA is just as challenging as moving from simple to complex, and what you can do to keep yourself safe when flying slow, lightly loaded wings.
